

Norman K. Freda

ASSOCIATE

Norman Freda is an attorney at Fishman Stewart. Norm's lifelong curiosity about how things worked led him to earn an undergraduate degree in engineering. He received a Bachelor of Science with Honors in Applied Engineering Sciences with a concentration in Technical Sales from Michigan State University. While at Michigan State, Norm's sales team won first place in the Senior Capstone Sales Competition, and his engineering group placed second for their major at Michigan State's Engineering Design Day.

Overview

Norm went on to earn his Juris Doctor (JD) at Wayne State University Law School, as a Dean's Scholarship recipient. His studies included multiple areas of intellectual property law including copyright, trademark, patent drafting, patent prosecution, and patent litigation. Norm also participated in the Patent Law Clinic which works with local inventors to assist them with the process of applying for a patent. According to Norm, it was his interest in digging into new technologies and inventions that drew him to Patent Law, where he still feels like he learns something new each day.

Norm was born and raised in Wayne County, MI. During his free time, he enjoys being outdoors, playing and watching sports, and spending time with family and friends.
