Overview

Art also specializes in IP Consulting, Transactional and e-Commerce Services. Prior to attending law school, he worked as an engineer for the oil field service industry for Haliburton and the automotive industry for Cooper Standard Automotive. It was during this time that Art became fascinated with IP law, ultimately deciding to attend law school to pursue his passion. Never one to shy away from a new challenge or opportunity for self-improvement, Art studied while working full-time, with a razor-sharp focus on and strong belief in his ability to help others.
